A DASTARDLY DEED.

Boardinghouse Blown Up By a Dynamite Bomb.

TWO MEN INSTANTLY KILLED.

Three Others So Badly Injured That They Have Since Died-One Other Man Seriously Injured but Will Recover-Three Men Arrested Charged With the Crime, and Other Arrests Will Follow.

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—About half past 12 o'clock Sunday morning a terrific explosion, snpposed to have been that of a dynamite bomb, occurred at the nonunion sailors' boardinghouse and saloon of Mr. and Mrs. John Curtin, located on Main street between Folsom and Harrlson. The sidewalk in frout of Curtin's boardinghouse where the explosion occurred was torn to pieces and the buildings on the side of Curtin's house were badly shattered. Six men who were standing near the spot where the explosion occurred were buried in the debris. Two were killed and three so serionsly injured that they have since died, while the other one is likely to recover.

The scene after the explosion was appalling in the extreme. One man had his face literally toru off, another both legs, and all of them were completely stripped of their clothing and covered with blood, smoke and cinders. Even the firemen in the enginehouse next door were daunted at the sight and waited for the patrol wagon.

George Holmes, a stevedore, and Erick McGinniss, a nonunion sailor, were instantly killed, and their bodies were removed to the morgue. William T. McKinzie was abadly burned all over the body. Edward Garrier and Charles the body. Edward Garrity and Charles Owens were horrlbly lacerated from head to foot. All three were fatally in-

John Curtin, Jr., son of the proprie-tor of the boardinghouse, was badly burned and bruised.

All were hastily removed to the re-ceiving hespital. None of them except young Curtin regained consciousness after their arrival there.

At midnight the door of the Curtin House was locked. Most of the inmates were abed, including Mr. and Mrs. Curtin and their little daughter. Some one tried the latched door cautiously and stole away. A few minutes later the six victims strolled down the street. All but two lodged in the house. They had all been at a theater and stopped to chat a minute or two before separating. Young Curtin saw lying against the door what seemed to be a vallee covered with an old blanket. Jerking away the covers he picked up the valise and instantly set it down, springing back with the cry, "My God, boys, its back with the cry, "My God, boys, its dynamite."

McGuiness stepped forward and carelessly pushed the valise with one foot. That instant there was a crash that shook the whole eastern side of the city, tore beams and timbers from their fastenings, caved in partitions like eggshells, strewed the streets for two blocks with shattered windows and scraped out a yawning hole where a sidewalk had been. Worse than that, it left in the tangle of spliutered boards and broken glass six bodies, stripped, most of them, of the skin, all apparently lifeless.

From the enginehouse near by and from every house men came running to the spot. They found three honses completely wrecked. Out of the ruins, men, women and children were crawling. Here was a naked foot and there another, and all about was a smell of burned flesh and of clothing that was still afire. Directly in front of Curtin's house the sidewalk was torn up for over 20 feet and in the center was a hole at least five feet deep.

At first glance nothing could be seen in the hole, but when a lantern was lighted the spectators saw half-covered with earth, broken glass and splinters of wood, the mutilated remains of a man. Both legs were blown off below the knees, the head hung to the body by a few shreds of flosh and the entire surface of the body was burned to a crisp. The tattered remains of an uudershirt still claug to the body, but every other particle of clothing was

In the gutter next to the sidewalk lay the forms of three men and the faint moans from two of them showed that life was not yet extinct. Policemen and patrol wagous were soon at nand and the bodies were carried to the receiving hospital. It was found that Holmes and McGuiness had been instantly killed. One of the victims revived enough on the way to feel his pain and screamed hideously as he was carried to the operating table. One eye huug out on his cheek aud his intestines protruded. Ou him, as the other victims, there was not a spot an inch square from which the blood was not oozing. The surgeons saw at once that Curtin was the only one who could live. It was only an hour or two before all the rest were dead. Strangely enough, no one else was hurt by the explosion. The bomb was indonbtedly meant to kill Curtin, his wife and children, and all the nonunion sailors in his house. Probably it had a time fuse attached and the men who carried it feared to wait long enough to open the locked door. It was merely a chance that brought the slx victims to the spot just at the moment when the deadly engine was to explode.

The police dld prompt work. Three men were arrested within the hour on strong suspicion. Mrs. Curtin told the officers that a few days before several nnion sailors had warned her that the days of herself and husband were numbered. She guided the police to a union boardinghouse near by. They found John Dirrell in bed, feigning sleep, wake. In the next room James Woods was found partially dressed. He dropped & hiut on which another room that had been found empty was revisited. In it was found a man named Tracy. He had been hiding on the roof and returned, thinking the search was over. Near the door of this honse was found a loaded revolver.

Dirrell and Woods were identified by

Mrs. Cartin as being among the men who had threatened her, and they with Tracy were arrested. They are all union sailors, and, it is said, were to have sailed today in the same ship.

Four men implicated in the plot are known and will doubtless be arrested

The hatred of Curtin by the union men is due to his persistent labors for the shipowners, who are fighting the Coast Seamen's nnion. He has been supplying the "scab" crews to vessels all during the water front war and has done more than anyone else to injure the union.

Yesterday a dense crowd packed the streets near the scene of the explosion. Pollcemen in plain clothes were there by the dozen looking for evidence and more prisoners, but members of the seamen's union were hard to find.

THE KINGSBURY DISASTER.

Brakeman Thompson Held Responsible by the Coroner.

LAPORTE, Ind., Sept. 25.—Thompson, the missing brakeman, is held by Coroner Cole to be responsible for the wreck of the Wabash passenger train at Kingsbury. The testimony offered at the inquest clearly established the responsibility for the frightful sacrifice of life. The engineer and firetuan of the freight train are exonerated from all blame.

Up to a late hour the officers had not Up to a late hour the officers had not been advised of thearrest of Thompson, though every effort is being made to unravel the mystery shrrounding his disappearance. When last seen he was flagging trains. He seemed to be dazed, and not able to comprehend the result of the fearful blunder he had committed. The testimony goes to establish the fact that Thompson was sleeping, and that, aronsed by the shrill sleeping, and that, aronsed by the shrill whistle of the oucoming train, he ran blindly to the switch and, turning it. sent the passenger train whirling to destruction.

Condition of the Injured.

PERU, Ind., Sept. 25.—Another name has been added to the list of those killed in the Wabash wrock at Kinsbury. Willie Hoskins, one of the London Orphan Bellringers, traveling under the management of James Woakley died Spaday after two days of in ley, died Sunday after two days of intense suffering, steam from the engine having scalded his face so badly that the skin from one side dropped off. The body and legs were also scalded, and one leg was terribly crushed.

During the night the remains of Harry French, the member of the Bellringer company, who was killed instantly, were brought to Peru, and were prepared for burial. The double finneral was held at the Baptist church yesterday afternoon. The interment took place at Mount Hope cemetery, this city.

Willie Evans, one of the Bellringer corapany, both of whose legs were broken, remains in a serious conditiou. Saturday night Jim Barer of Ashley, Ind., fireman on the wrecked freight, was brought to the hospital. His arm is terribly burned, and he is scalded badly all over. He is considered by the physicians to be in a critical con-

Indiana Thicket. Washington, Ind., Sept. 25.-Word was brought to this city that the Wratten murderers had been surrounded in a thicket, containing about 80 acres, in Dubois county. They were traced there by nelghbors, who noticed a man carrying food to them, and the officers and hundreds of men have flocked to

The place in which the villans are hidling is 18 miles from this city, and full facts can not be learned. Detective Forsee of the Pinkertons, the man who captured the Lavelle courthouse burners, in this county two years ago, arrived here, and proceeded at once to the scene of the tragedy. It is difficult to say what might be the fate of the men if brought to this city. The streets are crowded with excited men.

Ethel, the 12-year-old daughter, who was not killed by the murderers, but has since died, was buried beside the other members of the family.

As soon as word was brought in that the murderers were corraled, men went to the scene on horseback and In any thing they could get to ride in. It is not at all likely that the men, if captured, will be brought to this city. They will be taken to some adjoining county for safekeeping.

Drunk Ends in Death. ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 25.—Robert Wagner, aged 27 years, and Harvey Allender, aged 23, wound up a big drunk Saturday night by going to sleep in a barn near here. Both were found dead in the morning, having been killed by fames from a fodder-caring room near by.

WEEK OF DEBATE.

Nothing Expected From Either Branch of Congress.

TWO SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.

The Repeal Bill the One Topic in the Senate While the House Members Will Talk on the Election Repeal Bill-A Vote on the Latter Measure Will Not Be Taken Until the 10th of October.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—There is a reasonable certainty that congress will spend the entire week in debate. The first business in the senate will be the resolution offered Saturday morning by Mr. Stewart, declaring for the independence of the three great branches of the federal government. This comes up in the morning hour and Mr. Stewart will make it a text for an attack upon the administration on the grounds that it has trespassed upon the consti-tutional powers of the legislative branch of the government in the case of the pending repeal bill.

Notices of formal speeches have been given by Senator Bate of Termessee for today after the morning hour; by Senatoray after the morning hour; by Sena-tor Perkins of Callfornia, for Tuesday; by Senator Paseo of Florida, for Wednesday, and by Senator Dubols of Idaho for a later day in the week. These speeches will not fill in all of the time, as the lengthening of the sessions by the addition of an hour will give several full hours for debate each day But before Monday evening the list of speakers will doubtless be increased and there are half a dozen senators who standready to talk at any moment they may be called upon to do so.

The house will, on Tuesday next, the 26th mst., euter upon the two weeks' debate for the bill to repeal all statutes relating to supervisors of elections and special deputy marshals reported by Mr. Tucker, from the committee on election of president and vice president and representatives in congress. According to the terms of the order reported by the committee on rules, the house will proceed to its consideration ou that day "immediately after the second morning hour, or if said second morning hour shall not have sooner ended than at the hour of 2 o'clock p. 11. on said day." And it further pro-vides "that the consideration of said bill shall be resumed immediately after the second morning hour each legislative day thereafter, up to and including the 9th day of October next. That at the hour of adjournment en said last named day the previous question shall be considered ordered on all pending amendments on the bill, to its engrossment and third reading and to its final

"That on the next legislative day, to wit: the 10th day of October next at the hour of 1 o'clock p. m., the house shall resume consideration of said bill and shall proceed without further debate and without intervening motlons to vote, first, on the pending amendments, if there be any, then on the engrossment and third reading of the bill, then on the final passage thereof. and then on motions to 'reconsider and lay on the table,' should such motions be made. If from any cause this order shall not be fully executed on the last day meutioned herein, then this order shall continue in force and be operative each legislative day thereafter, until said bill shall be fully disposed of. Mr. Tucker, whose name is attached to the measure on the calendar, will open the debate in support of the bill, and he has given uotice that in the course of his remarks he will have something to say about the cost of executing laws sought to be repealed, and especially the allowances made to John I. Daveuport, the chief supervisor of elections in New York. Messrs. De Armond and Lawson, members of the committee, will follow Mr. Tucker for the bill, but further than this no details of the debate on that side have been arranged. Doubtless some of the New York members will speak more fully than Mr. Tucker of Mr. Davenport's counection with the election machinery iu that city.

In opposition to the bill, Mr. Doliver of Iowa will have the opening, followed by Mr. Johnson of Indiana. Both these are comparatively young men and menibers, but they are among the most aggressive political debaters on the Republican side, and it is expected that much vigor will mark their speeches. There are loading themselves with extracts from southern newspapers of recent date which they will use to demonstrate the necessity of the continu ance of the elections laws on the statute books and before the voting stage is reached a red-hot political debate will doubtless be raging.

There are several bills on the calendar which may occupy the house in the morning honr each day prior to the election bill debate. Among these are the bills reported by Mr. Oats from the committee on judiciary to repeal a por-tion of the laws covered by the Tucker bill, and which, in a general way, may be said to represent the views of the conservative members of the majority. They believe that certain provisions desired repealed by the advocates of the Tucker bill, should remain in force, but they will doubtless vote for that measure, although preferring the Oats bill. However, the consideration of any other than the bill set forth in the pending order will be desultory, and final action is not anticipated on any one of importance until the election repeal bill is out of the way.

LACROSSE IN CANADA.

Disgraceful Scenes at Championship Games.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 .- The most disgraceful game of lacrosse ever played In Canada came off between the Shamrocks of Montreal and the Capitals of Ottawa. It was for the championship of the world, and this was the deciding game. There were 10,000 people on the grounds, 8,000 of them being Shamrock sympathizers.

After the first game was captured by the Capitals, the Shamrocks started to play roughly and the first result was that Thomas Crown, goalkeeper of the Capitals, was knocked down by a blow from the lacrosse stick of a Shamrock player, which cut his head open. As Devine, another Capital player, was helping Crown off the grounds, a speetator struck him full in the face, cut-ting him badly. Doctors were called in and fixed the men up so that they could appear on the field.

The first two games were taken by the Capitals; the next two by the Sham-rocks, at the close of which the crowd broke down the railings inclosing the field, and in the melee a number of the Capital men were injured. During the last two games Lacky of the Capitals was ruptured by a kiek from Duggan, the Shamrock goalkeeper, and had to be taken to his hote! in an ambulance. He is badly hurt and will never play lacrosse again.
Crown, Lacky, Carson and Carritton of the Capitals were also injured.

It was dark when the fifth and deciding game was won by the Capitals, and this was the signal for a general onslaught. Steward, eaptain of the Capitals; Devine and Carson were set upon and badly beaten. The Capitals were run into their dressingroom which was guarded by the police, while the bus from the hotel had to be backed right up to the door of the dressingroom so that the Capitals could enter.

The referee, Mr. W. Aird, disappeared after the game was over, as the crowd wanted to get at him for giving the match to the Capitals. The game was the most exciting in years and the betting was very heavy. The Capitals were sent home to Ottawa in a special train. It is thought that the exhibition will do much to kill the game of lacrosse in Cauada. RACE WAR IN BROOKLYN.

Florce llattle Between Italians and Irish-

BROOKLYN, Sept. 25.—A race war occurred at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon between gangs employed by the Brooklyn city railroad at the coroner of Nassau street and Edison avenue. A gang of Italians, under Joseph H. Sugeretto. were laying tracks at this point when Foreman Cusack, in charge of 70 Irishmeu, objected to the manner in which the work was done and ordered the work done over again. The two foremen had a which resulted in Casack being struck in the face by the Italian. He retaliated, whereupon Sugeretto's assistants, about 40 in number, rushed to their chief's assistance. The Irishmen, seeing Cusack in danger, also rushed forward and a spirited battle ensued.

Shovels, picks and any weapon they could lay their hands on were used. None of the combatants escaped bruises, and it is thought that in some of the cases the injuries will prove fatal.

During the fight four Italians went to the roof of the house on Nassan street aud began a fusillade of bricks and stones on the heads of the contending

After the fight was over the police of the Twenty-first precinct appeared upon the scene and placed fifteen of the Italians under arrest, but did not interfere with any of the Irishmen and later in the day Sugeretto and four of his men were arrested. New Orleans Colored Men Satisfied With Governor Foster's Action.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25.—The leaders who have called a meeting of the colored people for Monday night to protest against the late lynchings in Jefferson withdrew their call. This was done at the anggestion of those whites who are opposed to lynch law. They took the position that a colored meeting to denounce the Jefferson outrage would arouse race prejudice, and that all should unite, regardless of color, to oppose lynch law and suppress vio-

MAY NEVER BE CZAn.

Russia's Ruler Prefers His Son Michael to His Elder Brother.

BERLIN, Sept. 25 .- It is rnmored here that the Czar of Russia will alter the succession to the throne, making the Grand Duke Michael, his fourth son, his successor. It is supposed that the reason for this step is that the czarowitch is of so sulky a nature and is totally without force of character.

Besides this, he has extremely radical opinions, opposed to the persecution of the Jews, and in many other ways is not in accord with his father. The Grand Duke George, the czar's second son, cares little for political life. He is a jolly sallor and a careless liver. The czar's affections are centered in the pre-cocious Michael.

ROBBERS THWARTED

An Attempt Made to Rob the Safe of an Indiana School

FOILED BY A PLUCKY WOMAN.

Pursued by Students and Citizens, They Showed Fight-A Nervy Farmer, With a Winchester, Came to the Rescue, Instantly Killing One and Wounding the Other in the Hand-Tho Desperadoes Identified.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 25.—One of the boldest attempts at robbery ever made In this country was made Saturday afternoon, when two masked men boldly entered the office of the Northern Indiana Normal school and tried to rob the large safe.

Miss Emma Jones, one, of the secretaries, entered the private office, and was confronted with two revolvers and a command to keep quiet. She struck one of the revolvers, knocking it to the floor. She then rau through the door when oue of the robbers fired at her, and she ran screaming into the street. The robbers, seeing that discovery was sure, walked out of the door and down the steps, and started on the run. In a few minutes students and citizens were in pursuit, armed with all kinds of fire-

About a mile from town the first of the pursuers came up with their, when they were fired upon by the robbers. An interchange of shots developed into a regular fusillade. Nathan O. Howe of Michigan City was coming to towu with a load of peaches. Seeing the chase, he ran to a farmhouse and borrowed a 44-ealiber Winehester, and, running into the field, ordered them to surrender, when they began firing at him. He fired, hitting one of them in the side, the ball passing through his body and arm, killing him instantly. His companion picked up his revolver and fired, when Howe shot again. hit-ting him in the hand. Seeing his partner was dead, he surrendered.

The injured man was brought back to town by Sheriff Stoddard and lodged in jail, where Drs. Leatherman and Pecock dressed his Injuries. He is Claire Moody of Kalamazoo, Mich., about 22 years old, nieely dressed, with white the and Prince Albert coat, and wore a mask and heavy false beard and wig. He came here about three weeks ago, and claimed to be a student, but had never entered school. The dead man at one time attended school here, and claimed to be from Cincinnati. He returned here a few days ago and inquired for Moody. His name was Frank E. Robinson. He was aged about 27.

A search of their room developed that they had . their trunks packed ready to leave, and letters found in Robiuson's from Verhe was show that sailles, Ind.

They netted him over $1,000. Professor Kinsey of the normal paid $100 tor one basket.

Professor Kinsey of the normal school said that from what they could uscertain Moody and Robinson came here for the express purpose of robbing the safe. As it was the beginning of a new year, they supposed there would be a large sum of money in the safe. A. G. Wherritt of Covington Tries to Leap Out of One of the Cars.

CIIICAGO, Sept. 25.—The guard in one of the cars of the Ferris wheel at the world's fair had an exciting experience Satnrday afternoon, as did also Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wherritt of Covington, Ky. Mr. Wherritt, it seems, is strangely affected when he ascends to great heights, but his wife, who had been up in the wheel, said that she had no idea that it would affect him. Saturday afternoon they started up together, and when the car was at the upper turn, 300 feet from the ground, Mr. Wherritt gave a scream and tried to dash through one of the windows.

He seized one of the iron bars with which they are guarded and tried to bend it. The guard and some of the gentlemen in the car grappled with him, and a furious struggle followed, the women screaming and rushing frantically from side to side to avoid the struggling men. The glass in the windows was broken, and Mr. Wherritt continued unuanageable until the car reached the lower turn, when he began to ealm down, and shortly after being removed from the chr came to his

Admiral Mellos Still Holds Off From Bombarding Rlo Janefro.

MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 25.—According to the latest reports from Rio Janeiro the situation there is stationary. No direct news has been received from the Brazilian capital, because of the censorship established over all telegraphic dispatches. The revolters' warships hold Desterro and Santa Caritana.

News that some of Admiral Mellos' ships have sailed for Santos to renew the attack upon that place has been confirmed. The Republican and Pallas have taken the town of San Francisco. It is reported that the government of Uruguay has sold arms to the revolters in Rio Grande. The Brazil Lloyd's steamer Santos has had her machinery disabled in order to prevent her crew from turning her over to Admiral Mei-

Peixoto's Side.

Paris, Sept. 25.—The following official dispatch has been received by the Brazilian delegation here, dated Rio Janeiro, Sept. 22, 5 p. m.: "The city has assumed its customary aspect, and has been revictnaled by means of the railway which connects the state of Rio Janeiro with Minas-Geraes. Sao Paulo, of which Santos is the port, has never suffered from the lack of food. The rebels never succeeded for an instant in taking possession of a single point on the shore, neither at Nictheroy nor at Santcs.

There is discouragement in the ranks every day, and some submit themselves to the government. Both chambers continue meeting regularly. President Peixoto has informed them that he deemed it needless to prolong the state of siege. No constitutional guarantee has been suspended, and the newspapers appear without censorship in all the states. Indignation increases against the ambition of the men who have ventured to disturb order and the normal working of the institutions."

ROBBERY WAS THEIR OBJECT. A Streetear Conductor Shot and Killed by a Negro.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—Edgar Fitzwilliams, a car conductor, was shot and killed by a negro. Fitzwilliams was an employe of the Eli Walker Dry Goods company and was acting as substitute on the car for James Waldon, the regular conductor. The car is the extreme western extension of the suburban line with but one man to act as ticket-taker and motorman combined. At the hour named the car had reached a lonely place in the outer suburbs, with four negroes and one white lady passenger Fitzwilliams entered the car to collect fares, and as he approached the negroes one of them pulled a pistol and sent a bullet through the victim's heart. The lady screamed and jumped from the car, which was not in motion. As she went out the door a bullet grazed her head. The negroes escaped. The screams of the lady attracted attention and shortly afterwrd the police were notified. Robbery was the negroes' ob-ject, but they were frightened by the lady's screams.

Several arrests of suspects have been made, but Miss Schuble. the lady passenger, was unable to identify any of the negroes.

SHOT AND PLACED ON THE TRACK. The Treatment Two Negroes Received From White Men.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 2i.—The body of Joseph Wesley, a negro section laborer, was run over and terribly mangled one mile north of Monroe, La., by a train. Wesley had been murdered, and the body placed on the track. Ed Esterling, also a section hand, was found shot and badly wounded. Esterling says that the men were at work when they were attacked by some white men, who, after firing the shot, placed both bodies on the rails.

Esterling revived and dragged himself off the track, but was unable to remove the body of Wesley. He can not give a lucid description of the murderers, but it is believed that the deed was committed by natives of the locality, who objected to the negroes being employed on the railroad, and who had threatened to drive them out of the

The colored population is said to be greatly excited, and further trouble may ensue.

MURDER ENDS UNHAPPY MARRIAGE. A Husband Shoots His Wife, and Is Killed by Their Boarder.

Petoskey, Mich., Sept. 25.—Abram Wilsey, a laborer who has been working in the Rico tannery, shot his wife four times with a revolver and was himself instantly killed by a young man named Henry Sik, who had boarded with them for some time. The Wilseys have lived unhappily ever since their marriage seven years ago, and they parted by mutual consent three years ago, when the woman applied for a divorce.

Wilsey went to her boardinghouse, and after vainly trying to induce his wife to live with him he drew a revolver, and as she fled he fired four shots, all taking effect and producing probably fatal injuries. Young Sik rushed into the room and, lodging behind the door, fired four times, one ball going through Wilsey's body, and the other striking him in the forehead, causing instant death. Sik is under surveillance, awaiting the result of the inquest.

Russlan Warship Overdue.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 25.—The Russian warship Rousalka, 1,960 tons, carrying a crew of 150 seamen and 10 officers, sailed on Tuesday last for Revel, a fortified town of Russia, on the Gulf of Finland, for Helsingfors, capital of Finland, on the same gulf. The Rousalka is now much overdue and grave anxiety for her safety is felt even at the admiralty.

A Terrible Palf Ending With Death.

New York, Sept. 25.—Charles Bardery, a rigger, employed by the Biter & Concly Company, Pitteburg, met a horrible death by falling 154 feet from the top of an iron chimney now in pro-cess of construction at the power house of the Brooklyn City Railroad com-

FOUR TRAINMEN' ARRESTED. Engineer and Brakeman Accused of Caus ing the Mantene Wreck.

KANKAKEE, Ills., Sept. 25.-Thomas Ames, the engineer of the second section of the ill-fated Big Four train in the Manteno wreck, was arrested and brought to this city. Orville Duncan, the brakeman of the first section, was arrested at Indianapolis, but can not be brought here without requisition pa-

Both men were arrested on coroner's warrants, and there seems to be some doubt as to whether they can be legally committed to jail, so the sheriff will not receive them. Engineer Ames is at liberty, and prepared to give bail as soon as he can have a hearing, but the trouble seems to be to get a hearing, as the coroner's warrants can not be received. the coroner's warrants can not be returned to a justice.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect lax-ative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constitution. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all drug-gists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is man-ufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

It is an agreeable Laxative for the Rowels; can be made into a Tea for use in one minute. Price 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per package.
